

danielwhatley

software engineer

contact

danieljwhatley@gmail.com

+1 (478) 319-2103

Location

Atlanta, GA

programming

C#, TypeScript, JavaScript
Java, Python, C

 github.com/djwhatley

profile

- Five years experience in full-stack development of web applications & products
- Highly perceptive individual who approaches problems from a holistic perspective
- Committed to quality work, very conscious of and averse to technical debt

interests

- Web API's and web infrastructure
- Improving and optimizing team workflows

experience

Jan '16–Now

RapidFire Tools / Kaseya

Atlanta, Georgia

Software Developer

Leading role in developing a web portal to provide company's services online, including full port of legacy application to web. Services primarily consist of network monitoring and assessments for security and compliance.

- Angular / TypeScript web app
- C# .NET back-end API
- MSSQL and MySQL databases

Also set up and maintained Jenkins build system to automate deployments to multiple servers and environments.

Sep '14–Dec '15

Sagepath, Inc.

Atlanta, Georgia

Software Developer

Developed websites and software applications for a variety of high-profile clients, including QTS Data Centers and the Coca-Cola Company.

Main projects:

- QTS Data Centers customer portal
- Flooring warehouse kiosk prototype with RFID scanner
- In-house expense reporting tool

Aug '12–May '14

Georgia Institute of Technology

Atlanta, Georgia

Head Teaching Assistant

Organized homework assignments and supplemental assessments for ~200 students per semester in CS2110: Computer Organization and Programming.

education

2010–2014

Bachelor of Science in Computer Science

Georgia Institute of Technology

Specialization in Platforms and Information Internetworks